From White Bluffs

A letter from White Bluffs to the Montanian says:

Pen d'Oreille route is said to be a good road by those who have travelled it, and the distance from here to the steamboat landing is only 150 miles, there being plenty of wood and water at convenient distances, the longest stretch without water being from the second crossing of Crab creek, eighteen miles, and a well is being dug, in the center of the stretch, making the drive only nine miles without water. There has been considerable work done on the road in the way of improvements.

FREIGHTING

Has been lively here for the past two or three weeks. Within that time about twelve tons have started for the Lake loaded with about 6,000 pounds each, together with the one or two pack trains, averaging twenty animals each for Colville, Rock creek and the Lake. With all this freighting the O. S. N. Company's warehouses still remain crowded to their utmost extent with freights for Colville and other points on the Columbia, the mines in the British Possessions, and the Lake. The rates are five cents to the Lake, and from six to eight cents to Colville.

OTHER ROUTES.

Are displaying a great deal of enterprise in trying to get the Montana trade. Especially the Walla Walla community are working hard to have the Montana trade go by way of the Mullan Wagon Road to Palouse Landing on Snake River, which is at least one hundred miles farther from the Dalles than this place; and in the spring the wagon road is impassable on account of the bridges being washed away which are built over the mountain streams. The boats of the O. S. N. Co. can only run up Snake River during high water, while they can navigate this river all the year, except when navigation is impeded by ice. "You Bet," a correspondent of the Walla Walla Statesman, has been fighting this place for the last month. He is known around these parts, and it is necessary to have his abuse to prosper. His first trip for the season, two weeks ago, was satisfactory to his troubled mind, being well pleased with the route; but having a prejudice to anything that pertains to this place, he persuaded Kyno & Kellogg, of Umatilla, to throw out a sack of flour, a nice bacon and a roll of rope, twelve miles below here, so as to give him a chance to use his gassy powers, which he did by giving out the report here that the above named firm had left ten tons of freight at that point, with the object of building a rival town. The site for a town here has [illegible] but how to get out of there is a question yet to be solved. The first enterprise for that plan to go into it is, in our hang driftwood. But we can bear up very well against all such opposition.

FROM COLVILLE AND BIG BEND.

A train of 153 animals, belonging to the Hudson Bay Company, arrived here on last Thursday, nine days from Colville. They report great excitement at Colville on account of the Big Bend mines; that the town had almost been deserted, and finding it too early to work in the mines yet, one hundred had returned. The miners seem encouraged, although there is from three to four feet of snow around the Big Bend, which is disappearing rapidly. Bacon is scarce and flour is bringing from $14 to $15 per cwt. at Colville.

EMIGRATION.

A band of 1,200 sheep was ferried over the river at this point this week. They started this morning for Okinagon. They are to supply the Big Bend mines [illegible] the coming season. Several families are here from the Willamette, intending to take up ranches on Crab creek, twelve miles out, and go into agriculture this coming summer.

A CHANCE FOR JUDGE SOLOMON.—The Hartford Post narrates the following singular story, the facts of which somewhat resemble those in the celebrated case decided by King Solomon:

A lady, Mrs. Deshon, now Mrs. Mary Jane Rand, residing in Boston, had [illegible] husband. The boy had several [illegible] his person, and also a peculiarity in his speech. When the child was five [illegible] old it died suddenly while [illegible] The singular appearance of the [illegible] have an autopsy made, and the [illegible] ecuted the attendant physician who had furnished the medicine [illegible] was her counsel at this time. [illegible] years after Mrs. Rand observed [illegible] which resembled her's so closely [illegible] it for some time, but finally lost [illegible] its attendants. Two years or more [illegible] she heard of it again, and then [illegible] was in the Asylum of the Deaf [illegible] city, being a charity pupil from [illegible] sachusetts. A picture of her husband [illegible] claims was the father of this child, was shown him, when he instantly exclaimed, and could, and in the presence of several [illegible] "That's my father, he lives in Boston."

A careful examination has been made of the boy by a physician who attended him during [illegible] months sickness, and he says that [illegible] have made two persons so near alike, [illegible] the first instance of the kind that had come to his knowledge." The marks on the boy [illegible] correspond exactly to those upon the [illegible] tended, and who was afflicted with a [illegible] ture, which the boy at the asylum has also. Mrs. Rand's testimony occupied the Court during the entire day, Tuesday, and her counsel, [illegible] has considerable more testimony to introduce, which he thinks cannot fail to convince any reasonable person that the child of Mrs. Rand was taken away whilst its mother slept, and another one substituted.

On the other hand, the putative mother, Mrs. Phillips, Staples, Wilder and Frost (she having been married several times) claims to be able to substantiate her claim to the boy, who, she says, is hers by Frost. He was admitted to the Asylum some four weeks ago, under the name of Edward Frost, and is now thirteen years of age, and, as we have said before, as a charity pupil of Massachusetts, but during this time his mother, or she who claims to be such, has paid little or no attention to him.

The case is one of the strangest on record, and will probably last for several days, and a good deal of interest is manifested in the result.
ROLAND.

LIST OF IRON CLADS NOW BUILDING.—Out of nearly seventy iron-clads ordered to be built for the United States Government during the rebellion, only fifteen now remain in the hands of the builders. Six entirely distinct classes of iron-clads are represented among these fifteen unfinished vessels, and two of them, the Dunderberg and the Puritan, have no counterpart in our navy as yet, although if successful it is probable that orders will be given for the construction of more vessels of their class. The Kalamazoo class, of which four vessels are being built, is also entirely a new style of ironclad. The [illegible] in order on the list is the Tippecanoe, a monitor [illegible] and sister ship to seven vessels now in service, [illegible] which we may mention the well known monitors Canonicus, Mahopac and Manhattan. The Shiloh is a light draught monitor and represents a class of which there are fourteen vessels now in service and building. The Marietta and Sandusky are also light draught monitors, but are of a different class from the others, being much smaller. The following is a complete list of the iron clads now being built for the Government. The Dunderberg and Puritan are receiving their machinery and will soon be ready for service, while the remainder thirteen vessels have not yet been launched.

THE GOLD OF THE RICHMOND BANKS.—It will be remembered that after the surrender of General Lee the military in Georgia captured $100,000 in gold, which was claimed by the Farmers, the Exchange and the Bank of Virginia at Richmond. Recent investigations of the facts, however, show that a few weeks before the evacuation of Richmond, the Legislature of Virginia passed a law authorizing the said banks to loan the Confederate Government upon the faith of the State, $300,000 of gold to purchase supplies for Lee's army. This sum was placed by the respective banks to the credit of the rebel Government, but before the surrender of Lee $60,000 was paid, leaving $240,000 belonging to the rebel Government with these banks at the time of the evacuation. The Government therefore claims not only the $100,000 captured in Georgia, but also the $200,000 additional in custody of the banks. This is the present condition of the question. The notes of these banks have been bought up with the expectation that the Government would relinquish its title to the $340,000 of gold.

A STOLEN CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT TURNS UP.—About the first of April last, J. J. Newkirk was robbed of a certificate of deposit for $1,500 and $250 in gold coin in Albany, Oregon. He had given the valuables to his wife, while stopping at a hotel there, and she concealed them in the bed while she left the room for a few minutes, but on her return they were gone. The certificate was on Abel Guy's banking house, San Francisco, which paid the money upon Newkirk filing a bond for the amount. On Monday morning a dirty looking Chinaman came into the bank and presented the identical lost certificate for payment.—Sac. Bee, 10th ult.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 9 1866

The Canvass made by Mr Woods

The returns from the late election indicate a large increase in our voting population since the elections of 1864

Much of this increase is owing to the immigrations from Price's disbanded forces all of whom gave aid and comfort to the Democratic ticket in Oregon as they did to the rebellion in Missouri

The vote for Kelly for Governor is slightly larger than that for Fay for Congress This is owing to the fact of Fay's utter unfitness for the place, and also that a few Union men—personal friends of Kelly and his family—voted for him supposing that Woods' election was sure and that they could safely throw away their votes In this they acted unwisely But Woods, whether elected or defeated, (and we think he is elected,) has made for himself many warm personal and political friends, and a most enviable reputation as a man of sound principles and as a forcible speaker —possessing a pleasing address, and that natural eloquence which at once convinces the judgment and appeals to the hearts of men

Mr. Woods is a man of Oregon growth and reputation, and when nominated, was much underrated both by his own party and by his opponents. Some Union men feared, and Democrats confidently expected and predicted, that Kelly, amongst the ablest, if not the very ablest man of the Democracy in Oregon, would obtain an easy victory over Mr. Woods Union men and Democrats, friends and enemies, were alike disappointed Kelly to his discomfiture, and his friends to their sorrow, found that Woods was an overmatch for him, far surpassing him in that gentlemanly, dignified and courteous bearing which should characterize a public man, and far surpassing him in political knowledge and sagacity, and that indescribable something which awakens the enthusiasm and inspires the confidence of men Union men rejoiced to find so able a defender of their principles, and one that they would now confidently match against any or even all of the Democratic orators in Oregon.

There never has been a more creditable canvass since that made by Col. Baker in 1860, than the one just made by Mr. Woods, and the place he has won in the confidence of the Union men of Oregon is second to that held by no other man in the State.

The Test Oath.

Upon no one of the points in the problem of reconstruction has the President been more inconsistent with himself than in regard to the disability of rebels to hold office under the Government Since his term of office began, he has been on both sides of this question, at one time declaring that those who had voluntarily aided the rebellion should not only be deprived of the right to hold office, but also disfranchised and impoverished, and at another, urging Congress to modify or repeal the test oath law so that some who are now incompetent to take it may be qualified to receive official appointment. When he took his present office he "ordered traitors to the rear, proclaiming that they should have no part in the work of restoration. After a time he asked Congress to relax the test oath so that these very traitors could engage in the work from which he had said they should be rigidly debarred. Next, he told the country that all persons are loyal who will take an oath to support the Government of the United States. Then he took the first opportunity to unsay this declaration by telling Congress that it might kick out of its doors any member who is believed to be disloyal, and this notwithstanding the member has taken, or is willing to take the oath prescribed. Admirers of his "policy" may reconcile these contradictory utterances if they can; for others, it is sufficient to remember them

The great barrier that shuts out the late rebels from active participation in the government, is the test oath. It is often said by the adulators of the policy that would restore them to power, that unless the oath be modified in some way, nobody can be found in the South to fill the subordinate offices of the various departments. This assumption has been exposed and completely refuted by the Judiciary Committee of the House to whom the request for a repeal of the test oath law had been referred by the lower branch of Congress. The Committee show that the States now unrepresented in Congress furnished 42,605 men for service in the National armies during the rebellion. It would seem from this showing that there ought to be no difficulty in finding men to fill the subordinate offices of the Federal Government in the Southern States. Besides, those who most loudly demand the repeal of the law, insist that a large majority of the people of the recovered States did not engage in the rebellion of their own volition. If this be true, of course they can take the test oath readily enough, so that with the law standing as it does now, there need be no fear that the Federal offices will go a begging.

Walla Walla helps Umatilla.—We understand that the Democrats of Walla Walla took very little interest in the election there last Monday, and that many of them came over to Oregon to manage our elections for us. This accounts in part for their unexpected majority in Umatilla county. W. G. Langford, a lawyer of Walla Walla, now a member of the Council of Washington Territory, though running for another office in Walla Walla county, did not remain at home to look after his interests on election day, but came over to Oregon to help his Copperhead friends. This was extremely kind We fear Langford has become greatly demoralized since he went over to the Democracy.

Beautiful Extract—Senator Yates of Illinois said in a speech recently delivered in the United States Senate. "Gentlemen may erect Altars to conservatism, but they will go down to that vortex into which so many Compromisers, Union savers and Conservatives have gone, that bourne from which no political traveler ever returns. Sir, I care not who the man may be, though he be a Senator upon this floor or President of the United States, however high his title or proud his name, if he is false to human freedom, the place which knows him now shall soon know him no more forever"

Senator Trumbull in closing the debate upon the Freedmen's Bureau bill gave the garrulous Davis of Kentucky a neat hit Davis boastfully declared that in his State miscegenation was a criminal offense severely punished, and would ever thus continue In reply, Mr Trumbull said "it is a matter of regret to learn that in old Kentucky the propensity of whites and blacks to intermarry is so strong that in cannot be restrained by such stringent legislation"

The Wonderful "Policy"—The Sacramento Union says "Stripped of all disguising verbiage, the President's policy consists of the restoration of rebels to power in the States and at Washington, and the abandonment of loyalists, white and black, to the mercy of Confederate rulers The vetoes, the pardons, the recommendation to dilute the test oath, the opposition to constitutional guarantees, mean this and nothing less infamous"

Declines the Honor—Ex Governor Tod, of Ohio, has authorized a friend to say that the use of his name as one of the Vice Presidents of the "Johnson National Union Club (so called) was without his authority or consent That he gave no authority or license whatever to any one for using his name as Vice President or otherwise of any Johnson club or meeting He has further expressed himself to the effect that he has no sympathy whatever for any organization of rebels, Copperheads, and men of doubtful political character, disturbers of the harmony our country's saviors.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO JUNE 6.

The Disturbances on the Border.

St Albans June 4th —Another company of United States Artillery from Fort Independence arrived this morning The United States authorities are using every effort to preserve neutrality The Fenians are preparing for a movement

[illegible] June 4th — The excitement continues at [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] Fenians were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] certain [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] This [illegible] movement [illegible] [illegible] that the [illegible] [illegible] The Fenian force [illegible] St Albans [illegible] of which [illegible] moving heavily [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] Fenians are in the field [illegible]

New York June — A proclamation has been issued through the Attorney General ordering U S District Attorneys and Marshals to arrest all the leaders of the so-called Fenians who have been or may be found guilty of violating the neutrality laws [illegible] [illegible] Warrants were issued yesterday directing U S Marshal to arrest Fenians who [illegible] on board the steamer Michigan at Buffalo, and bring them before the U S Commissioner for examination preliminary to their trial before the U S District Court for a breach of the neutrality laws The writ was served last evening but an answer was withheld until Commander Bryson of the Michigan should consult with the Washington authorities The prisoners are really in custody of the civil authorities and the military and naval authorities are guarding them

A Washington special says no decision has been arrived at in the case of prisoners in our possession One thing is positively decided upon however and that is that not surrender them to the British authorities The Canadians are said to have about 100 prisoners and it is reported that not less than 25 or 30 had been shot in the woods around Fort Erie and Ridgeway but this needs confirmation It is reported that several Canadian volunteers who deserted in the face of the enemy have been tried by drum head court martial and shot

The most exaggerated rumors continue to circulate to fire the Fenian heart, about active sympathy in Canada and demonstrations such as cutting the canals railroads telegraphs &c to impede the movements of Canadian troops but they are all false There has been the most [illegible] loyalty throughout Canada and not a single resident Fenian has shown himself Indeed several hundred Canadians residing in Chicago and other Western cities have gone home to volunteer for the defense The funeral of the volunteers killed at Ridgeway was attended at Toronto yesterday with a most popular demonstration, all business being suspended

The Toronto Globe says "General Napier's admirable disposition of his troops will enable him to meet the enemy in any part of the shores of the Western Peninsula Several gunboats have been improvised to patrol the St Lawrence river Not less than 6,000 British veterans are stationed along the frontier These stirring events have pretty effectually squelched the Irish chief organizer Stephens who has manifestly declared that the cause of Ireland has been destroyed by the Omahony and Sweeny factions

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in the DAILY OREGONIAN—full and reliable news from all sources, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon, and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable, more especially in matters pertaining to Oregon interests.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—The citizens of Portland generally have very often felt the debt of gratitude community they owe to the well organized and efficient Fire Department of this city. It has to be conceded by all parties, and by the residents of older and much larger communities, that the department at Portland stands without a superior, in proportion to the population of other cities in the United States. It is composed of all classes of business men, and none but those who have a standing in the scale of honorable conduct have been admitted to membership in the organization. The chief feature which gives departments of this character a permanent existence may be summed up in the spirit which manifests itself so prominently in the hearts of the American people everywhere, for surpassing others in the greatness, goodness, or value of any quality. A correct understanding of this principle is what gives to the Portland Fire Department its pre-eminent rank over other departments in other cities, which we have hitherto claimed for it and which is very readily acknowledged. The arrival of a splendid new steam fire engine for Multnomah Company No. 2, has been the cause of considerable comment favorable to appreciation of the enterprise of that Company. But very little indeed has been known, outside the membership of the company about their contemplated purchase, and the arrival of the engine here by the steamer on Wednesday last, took our city by surprise. It seems that the company determined upon their action last November, at which time the order for the engine was forwarded to Mr. Silsby, Agent of the "Island Works," at Seneca Falls, New York, and the manufacture at once commenced. It is a splendid looking machine, with two dischargers and branches for four streams, has one of M. R. Clapp's improved boilers, and Holly's rotary pumps. The engine cost the company about $6,000 delivered, and the whole amount—less the freight bill from San Francisco to Portland, which is properly acknowledged below—was met by the individual members of the company. The names of the purchasing committee appear on one of the plates of the machine, and is as follows: A. H. Johnson, A. B. Elfelt, L. M. Starr, A. C. Bixby, A. D. Hallock, all of whom will be recognized as being from among the liberal and enterprising of our citizens. When the engine was offered for transportation from San Francisco to this city, it happened to fall to the lot of the Anchor (Opposition) Line to forward it. Capt. Kelly, of the new steamer Montana, with that generous disposition for which he has become generally known in this community, deemed it a matter of public interest, and realizing that our city was pursuing a liberal course towards ship owners, by paying annually heavy taxes for the enlargement and general improvement of navigation in the rivers, and asking not a cent in return from the companies who receive the benefits to be derived from such improvements, concluded to do so much for us as not to tax us freight on the machine, and he landed it upon the wharf and receipted the bill. For this we trust he will be more than remembered. Here we have a taxable property of over $3,000,000, and for years the steamers of the old lines have transported the great bulk of our freight and all the passengers in old boats at exorbitant figures, and if we are not mistaken they have yet to contribute a cent to assist us in the most urgent necessities of river improvements, but if asked to do so have not the people of Portland been informed that unless they themselves provided proper facilities the steamers could find some other place to discharge at and have not those same steamers "delivered" freight for Portland at the ship's tackel in the Columbia river, at the risk of the owners or consignees? It may be improper to allude to these matters in this connection, hence we will conclude by submitting the following acknowledgment of the favor of Capt. Kelly:

HALL OF MULTNOMAH ENGINE NO. 2,
Portland, June 7th, 1866.

To Capt. John H. Kelly, Steamship Montana:

SIR: At a regular meeting of this Company, the President and Secretary were desired to make suitable acknowledgment to Capt. Kelly, of steamship Montana, and the owners of the Anchor line for their kindness in bringing to this city from San Francisco the new steam fire engine belonging to the Company, free of charge.

In the performance of this pleasing duty we beg leave to assure you that the liberality shown toward our Company is heartily appreciated and that we recognize in this act the generous spirit which we believe animates both officers and owners of the Anchor Line.

We are, sir, very resp'ly, your obd't serv'ts,
A. J. BUTLER, President.
W. I. LEONARD, Secretary.

[illegible] IN NEW YORK.—The disgusting spectacle of "Mazeppa" was being produced on Broadway, N. Y., last month, with Ada Isaacs Menken as the chief personage. The Tribune says of the audience which greeted her first appearance, that it was composed chiefly of males and was of a coarse and brutal character. Every variety of dissolute life was represented in it. The purple nose, the sensual countenance, the glassy eye, the bull neck, the heavy lower jaw, the aspect of mingled lewdness and ferocity—all were there. Youths, whose attire exhibited an eruptive tendency toward cheap jewelry, lolled upon their seats, champing tobacco, and audibly airing their filthy minds. Old sports were abundant. The atmosphere fairly reeked with vulgarity. Long before the curtain rose, the galleries resounded with the clamor of the gods. Remarks, of a character complimentary to Tony Pastor, were frequently audible. As an actress, the writer says Menken has not the first pretensions to one. After suggesting the character of the performance, and denouncing it, the article closes by saying that it was nothing less than a grievous discredit to the acted drama of the metropolis. Burlesques of "Mazeppa" have been performed at the Portland Theatre, but the shameless play should be denounced everywhere, as its tendency is corrupting.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER FIDELITER.—The fine iron propeller Fideliter, Capt. M. C. Erskine, Commander, arrived at 6 o'clock last evening, three days from Victoria. Heavy weather was experienced the entire passage, but she reached and crossed the bar in thirty-three hours, and only for extra detention, would have arrived at her wharf in this city in about forty-eight hours. The Fideliter is an excellent little steamer, and will hereafter supply a much needed means of communication between Portland and Victoria. She has ample cabin accommodation, and will carry about 150 tons of freight. She is English built, and was considered a very fast boat previous to her meeting with a collision in Fraser's river which sent her to the bottom. But as she has been so thoroughly overhauled and refitted, she is now as staunch and reliable as iron and wood can make a vessel of her class. Capt. Erskine is a gentleman very well known in our community, and under his command we trust that a generous support will be given the Fideliter by all parties concerned in the interests of keeping a permanent line of trade open between the two ports.

COL. HAWKINS.—This gentleman and true soldier has been in Oregon but a few weeks, yet in that time he has won the respect and confidence of all who have formed an acquaintance with him. We understand that he leaves on the steamer for California to-day. The Union men of Oregon will remember him with gratitude for his disinterested efforts in their behalf during the late political canvass. He has worked with unceasing vigor for the party since his arrival in Oregon. Though he has been most vilely assailed since he came here, the shafts of malice have fallen harmlessly from him. Not a word has been uttered against him that has been substantiated. Wherever he may go, he may assure himself that he will be kindly remembered by the true Union men of Oregon.

EXPLAINED.—The true character of the Seattle issue has been a query to the newspaper corps of Oregon, Washington Territory, and Victoria. In answer to suggestions of this paper, the Seattle print says: "The Puget Sound Daily issues every day—of course. The Puget Sound Weekly issues every week, also, of course." This is satisfaction. The Victoria Chronicle was led into error, and announced that the Seattle daily had been turned into a weekly, but the following from the daily, semi-weekly, weekly, or whichever it is—we can't just yet comprehend the style—says: "We don't know nothing about the Seattle Daily, but we do know, very well, that the Puget Sound daily has not been turned into a weekly issue." We rest.

FROM VICTORIA.—The steamer Fideliter, Capt. Erskine, brings about sixty tons of freight, consisting of iron, crockery, coal, coal tar, sugar, oil, etc., and passengers as follows: Wm Kohl, A Francis, Jas McCurdy, M Hardy, R Holland, wife and 4 children, Mrs Capt Irving and 4 children, Miss S Wright, Wm Artley, H Bellow, G A Locke, M C Laughlin, M Niland, Wm Ohller, W Howell, W Tappen, P C Naptine, G Pard, G Baston, G Quinn, N Bay, H Wilson, M Nicholas, L Stuart, G Fried and nine Chinamen.

NEW GOODS.—Mr. John Wilson, 127 Front street, opposite the What Cheer House, advertises this morning his full stock of new summer goods, of a quality equal to any in the State. His long connection with the business, and his established reputation is recommendation enough to the public, and when he asserts that prices are reduced, that means that his goods are being sold lower than formerly. Read his advertisement.

FOUND DROWNED.—The remains of the little son of Capt William H. Smith were found yesterday in the river a short distance below the Carpenter's shop, at the O. S. N. Company's ship yard. The funeral will take place to-day, from the residence of the family, near the corner of North Park and B streets. We sympathize with the family in their bereavement.

PERSONAL.—Hon. John Cummins, United States revenue collector for the southern district of Idaho, arrived here on the 5th, bringing with him $40,000 of revenue collections in Idaho, which he has taken to the United States depository at Oregon City. Mr. C. has lately been appointed an Associate Justice of Idaho, to take the place of the "eccentric" Aleck Smith.

EXPORTS.—Per steamer Sierra Nevada, June 9th, 1866: 21 half barrels cider, 2 packages tobacco, 316 bales wool, 10,104 sacks flour, 101 packages merchandise, 334 kegs dried fruit, 52 rolls leather, 16 packages eggs, 10 coops chickens, 4 boxes apples, 6 bales dry goods, 12 hides, 5 bundles sheep skins, 12 firkins butter, 4 gunnies bacon, total number of packages, 11,142.

EXPORTS.—The monthly statement of imports at Victoria for the month of May past, shows that the exports of Oregon in that direction amounted to but the trifling sum of $6,949, against $22,367 from Puget Sound, and $93,505 from California. Can't that be improved the current month?

DIVINE SERVICE.—Rev. Mr. Blakeslee of California, will preach to-morrow at the Congregational Church in this city, at the usual hours morning and evening.

PURSE FOUND.—A purse, containing a small sum of money, was picked up in the street yesterday. The owner can have the same upon proving property and paying for this notice, by applying to E. D. Backenstos, up stairs, 100 Front street.

THANKS.—Messrs. Knapp, Burrell & Co., agents for the Dayton Mills flour have our thanks for a barrel of the prime products of these mills. We are prepared to speak understandingly and we pronounce the flour A No. 1.

FOR EUGENE CITY.—The People's Transportation Company will dispatch a steamer from Oregon City for Eugene City on Tuesday next.

TREASURE.—Per steamer Sierra Nevada, June 9th, 1866: Ladd & Tilton, $70,000; Wells, Fargo & Co., $200,000.

Owyhee News.

We have received the first number of a Democratic paper, published at Silver City, Owyhee, by W. G. T. Vault. We extract the following items from its columns.

SILVER CITY.

This business little place is fast springing into notice. It is situated on Jordan creek, about one mile from Ruby City, and has a population of from five to eight hundred and increasing daily. It contains 10 stores, 3 livery stables, 2 tin works, 3 blacksmith shops, 3 meat markets, 7 saloons, 1 drug store, 1 tin shop, 1 wagon maker, 2 billiard saloons, 1 bakery, 1 shoe shop, 7 restaurants, 1 book and stationery store, 3 private boarding houses, 1 banking house, 2 assay offices, 1 sign painter, 1 tobacconist, 2 doctors, 6 or 8 lawyers, about 150 buildings and offices, also 7 quartz mills, each having a blacksmith shop and the necessary mechanics. The Lincoln mill runs 20 stamps, the Morning Star, 8; the Cosmos, 10; the Ida, 4; the Webfoot, 5; the Shoemaker, 10; the Minear, 5, in all 62 stamps. There are also two splendid hotels being erected, besides a large number of storehouses and residences, and it is confidently expected that during the present season Silver City will be the largest place in Idaho. The Oro Fino and War Eagle Mountain gold and silver lodes immediately above and adjoining Silver City, are being worked with at least from 200 to 300 men, besides the great number required to run the mills and haul quartz.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN.

We hear from several gentlemen who have been out to South Mountain, which is situated some twenty miles south of Silver City, that it is a desirable locality. The northern slope of the mountain is finely timbered and well watered. The timber is of the best quality, and abundant. The groves consist of as fine fir as any part of Oregon, and the district is immediately on a direct line of travel to the Forks of the Owyhee, where, it is stated Col Fugua will build a bridge the present season. This will shorten the travel to Star City, in the state of Nevada, some fifty miles, and will undoubtedly be the traveled road from Silver to Star City. This timbered district will become valuable for building material and fuel at Flint and Oro Fino mining localities. We expect a full description of that region of country from Mr Lytle, for our next issue.

HORRIBLE MASSACRE.

About the 19th inst., some fifty Chinamen were trudging their way to the mining regions of Idaho, about five miles before they reached the Owyhee river, when a large band of Indians, supposed to number two or three hundred, attacked them, and report says killed forty nine. One Chinaman, alone, escaped to tell the news. Lieutenant Pepoon dashed to the ground, with a squad of soldiers, and found thirty dead bodies. He immediately sent a dispatch to Major Marshall who at the time, was near this place with a company of cavalry of about fifty men. The Major left on Wednesday last for the scene of murder. Our report is yet but meagre. However it is stated that when Lieut Pepoon arrived at the place he found numbers of dead bodies mangled most brutally. In many places five or six were found piled together. The Lieutenant followed the trail about five miles, and found dead Chinamen all the way.

On Wednesday last, Major Marshall marched about fifty cavalry soldiers into Silver City, and halted for "a few minutes," then took up his line of march for the place where the Chinamen were killed. He started to hunt an Indian fight, and will be in bad luck if he don't find it. The route taken by the Indians after killing the Chinamen, was south, towards the head of the Owyhee, or rather towards Nevada, where it has been reported that the red cusses have all been killed but one, and he came in for a treaty, which was progressing at latest dates.

INDIAN STEALING.

Last night the Indians came within half a mile of Boonville, about two miles from here, stole 65 head of mules from Briggs, Glenn & Wilson's train. Ten men went in pursuit. Capt. Bohannan is raising a company at this place to follow.

RED MOUNTAIN.

Some three weeks since about fifty persons, mostly experienced quartz and placer miners started on a prospecting tour to the Red Mountains—since which time they have not been heard from; but hourly it is expected that they will report finding fabulously rich mines, and a beautiful agricultural district. If they should cross the 42d parallel, they will be in Nevada.

BUILDING.

House building at Silver City is progressing rapidly. Some eight or ten new buildings have been erected in the last ten days or two weeks, and many more would have been built but for the difficulty in getting lumber.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH—Unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic an antidyspeptic, Hostetter's. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from Irritation of the Throat and Hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." The demulcent ingredients allay pulmonary irritation, and, after public speaking or singing, when the throat is weakened with too much exercise, their use will give renewed strength to the vocal organs.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Russell and Bancroft

SPICY CORRESPONDENCE IN RELATION TO MR. BANCROFT'S MEMORIAL ADDRESS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

LORD RUSSELL TO MR. BANCROFT

CHESHAM PLACE, Feb 23 1866

DEAR MR ADAMS —I observe in the Daily News of yesterday extracts from a speech of Mr Bancroft delivered in the House of Representatives on the 12th instant In this speech Mr Bancroft is represented to have said referring to the breaking out of the civil war "The British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs made haste to send word through the palaces of Europe that the great republic was in its agony that the republic was no more, that a headstone was all that remained due by the law of nations to 'the late Union.'"

As words pronounced on such an occasion and by so eminent a man as Mr Bancroft may have an effect far beyond the injury which my personal character might suffer I must request you to convey to Mr. Bancroft my denial of the truth of his allegations, and to refer him to facts of a totally opposite character.

Soon after the news of the resistance in arms of the Southern States to the Government of the Union arrived in this country, a member of the House of Commons stated in his place that the bubble of republicanism had burst I replied in the same debate that the bubble of republicanism had not burst, and that if the curse of slavery still hung about the United States it was England who had made them the gift of the poisoned garment which was now their torment In fact, I have never had any doubt that whether the United States consented to separation or pursued the war to extremity, the great Western republic would remain, happily for the world, a powerful and independent republic.

The authors of the Declaration of Independence in declaring for separation from Great Britain, after enumerating their complaints of her conduct, go on to say: "We must therefore acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends."

That we should be enemies in war is easily understood, but when we are at peace why should we not be friends, as the great men of the American revolution intended us to be? If they in a moment of separation and war looked forward to a period of peace and of friendship, why should we, more than three-quarters of a century after those events, keep up sentiments of irritation and hostility founded on a mistaken apprehension of facts, and tending to lay the foundation of permanent alienation, suspicion and ill-will?

As Mr. Bancroft's speech is likely to have very extensive publicity, I reserve to myself the power of making public this letter at such time as I shall judge fit

I remain, my dear Mr. Adams, your faithful servant,

RUSSELL.

P. S. I subjoin an extract of my speech on the 30th of May, as reported in Hansard's Debates.

MR. BANCROFT TO MR. ADAMS IN REPLY.

NEW YORK, March 13, 1866.

MY DEAR MR. ADAMS I have received from you, by Lord Russell's desire, a copy of his letter to you of 28th February last, in which he denies the truth of certain allegations in my address to Congress on the 12th of the same month. The passage which he cites contains three allegations That as British Secretary as State for Foreign Affairs he viewed this republic as "the late Union;" that he sent this view of our country through the palaces of Europe, and that he made haste to do so. When Lord Russell calls to mind the authority for those statements he must acknowledge them to be perfectly just and true.

On the 6th day of May, 1861, Lord John Russell, then Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, wrote a despatch to Lord Lyons in which he describes the condition of America as "the disruption of a confederacy;" and he further used the words. "Civil war has broke out between several States of the late Union. The government of the Southern portion has duly constituted itself. Her Majesty's government do not wish you to make any mystery of that view." Here is irrefragable proof of my first allegation.

On the day on which the Minister of the Queen thus wrote he addressed a despatch to Lord Cowley, Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, designating our republic as "the States which lately composed the American Union," "the late United States," "the late Union," and he enclosed in that despatch, for Lord Cowley's instruction, a copy of the above cited letter to Lord Lyons. Having thus ostentatiously communicated his view of our country as "the late Union," he asked in return, "to be made acquainted with the views of the imperial government." My second allegation is, therefore, true, in letter and spirit.

That Lord John Russell, as Secretary of State, was in haste to do this, appears from his not having awaited the arrival of the American Minister of Mr. Lincoln's appointment, and from those very letters of the 6th of May, 1861, to Lord Cowley and to Lord Lyons, for in those letters he confesses that he had not as yet "received from Lord Lyons any report of the state of affairs and of the prospects of the several parties," but that on coming to the decision which was so momentous and unprecedented he acted on the reports of "some consuls" and "of the public prints."

It is true that twenty-four days after Lord John Russell had officially described our country as "the disruption of a confederacy," "the late United States," "the late Union," he reproved a member of the House of Commons for openly exulting "that the great republican bubble in America had bursted," and owned "that the republic had been for many years a great and free State." But he uttered no expectation or hope of the restoration of our Union, and rather intimated that the Americans were "about" to destroy each other's happiness and freedom" Lord John on that occasion rightly attributed the rebellion to the "accursed institution of slavery," and confessed that England was the giver of "the poisoned garment," that the former government of Great Britain were "themselves to blame for the origin of the evil." But this confession must be interpreted by the light of his averments on the 6th of May, 1861, and by Lord Russell's later assertion that the efforts of our country were but a contest for "empire."

In speaking to the American Congress of the life and character of Abraham Lincoln it was my unavoidable duty to refer to the conduct of the British Government towards our country during the administration, for nothing so wounded his feeling, or exercised his judgment, or tried his fortitude.

I was asked to address the two Houses of our Congress, and those only. When I learned that the British Minister at Washington was likely to be one of my hearers, I requested Mr. Seward to advise him not to be present; and through another friend, I sent him a similar message, which he received and perfectly understood.

I need not recall words of ninety years ago to be persuaded that in peace America and the United Kingdom should be friends. I have a right to say this, for when in the public service, I proved it by public acts, and, as a private citizen, I have never wished our government to demand of a foreign power anything but justice.

Pray send Lord Russell a copy of this letter, which he is at liberty to publish, and I consider myself equally at liberty to publish his letter, to which this is a reply.

I am ever, my dear Mr. Adams,

Very truly yours,

GEO. BANCROFT.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, June 8th, 1866

There has been no particular change in matters of finance, and the money market, while presenting an abundant demand is but partially supplied Rates of exchange are nominally unchanged The gold market is firm at the East, and consequently Government securities are less active.

The course of the Eastern money market, at our latest dates was toward increasing ease Money was reported in liberal supply and call loans were readily obtained on acceptable securities, at easy rates of interest. The partial contraction of credits, induced early in the spring by the actual and anticipated fall of prices, was having its effects in a great abundance of money at the commercial and financial centre of the country The rates on call loans were 4@5 ₩ cent and round sums had been offered to private bankers by the banks at 3 ₩ cent per annum The expectation that the Secretary of the Treasury would attempt to issue a long 5 ₩ cent gold interest bond for funding a portion of the short obligations of the Government, had led to a general appreciation of Government securities especially of ten forties Sterling exchange had steadily been tending upward in view of the decline of cotton in Liverpool, and the expected return of 5-20 s

The volume of trade was perceptibly increasing It was thought that changes in the Excise Tax bill, announced as having been agreed upon by the Committee of Ways and Means, would have the effect to unsettle the values of some domestic products, and cause a temporary suspension of trade; but the consumptive demand runs so closely upon the supply of most of those exempted or partially relieved products, that no very great difference will probably be made in the price of stocks on hand

Speaking of the condition of finance and trade at San Francisco, the latest circular of Messrs McCracken, Merrill & Co says "We remark at the outset, in our review, more than usual dullness and inactivity in all the leading departments of trade. There does not appear to be the slightest [illegible] in any quarter to speculate in [illegible] the [illegible] for the [illegible] part [illegible] mining [illegible] large [illegible]."

In submitting the semi-annual report of the Bank of British Columbia to the proprietors at the general meeting held in London on the 19th of April 1866 the directors state that the accounts of the Bank for the half year ending 31st December last after paying all charges deducting rebate of interest on bills not due, and making full provision for bad and doubtful debts show undivided profits to the amount of £37 240 15s 11d which the directors recommend to be appropriated as follows £12 500 in payment of a dividend at the rate of ten per cent per annum and £14 170 in payment of a bonus of 5s a share making together a dividend and bonus at the rate of twelve and a half per cent per annum for the half year and leaving the sum of £1 0[illegible] 15s 11d to be carried forward

The bank grants letters of credit on its branches at San Francisco in California Portland in Oregon Victoria, in Vancouver Island and British Columbia or interior credits are granted by the British Union Company, the Union Bank of Ireland the North and South Wales Bank in Liverpool the Bank of Liverpool and the Eastern Exchange Bank. The Bank also purchase or forwards for collection drafts on the above Colonies

Mining operations have been resumed in the various mines east of the Cascade mountains in the great basin of the Columbia with renewed activity As an indication of the operations of one camp we refer to the South Boise correspondence of the Idaho World, under date of May 17th published by us on Thursday last. From Owyhee we have encouraging reports Our correspondent informs us that the Moore & Fogus company were running all stamps of the Mincar Morning Star, Oregon and the Cosmos Companies, and fifteen stamps of the mill of the Lincoln Company on Oro Fino rock making large returns The Lincoln Mill Company were running five stamps on Allison rock and would shortly start twenty stamps upon the same class of ore The last named company now have the controlling interest in the Oro ledge Our correspondent was of the opinion it would not pay largely, but would undoubtedly pay dividends over and above the expenses of working A very large amount of merchandise was constantly reaching Owyhee from California via the route from Chico but business was very unsettled owing to the vast quantity of goods on hand Flour has sold as low as $12 per hundred pounds but on the 23th of May was held at $16, with dull sales The time occupied by the trains from Chico to Ruby City was 25 to 36 days. New and important discoveries were reported in the "Quicksilver" district, among the most prominent of which are noted four ledges varying from four to ten feet in width, two of which show a value per ton of $1 065 in silver and gold upon practical tests Also, 150 miles south of Ruby city a new district has been located, and termed Red Mountain, which is generally considered to be a rich region both for placer and quartz mines The Indian difficulties still prove a serious draw back to the interests of Owyhee The residents there are becoming greatly exercised because of the lack of efficient aid for their protection, which has been so justly claimed of the Government.

During the week we have given publicity to a matter concerning the action of Congress relative to the improvement of navigation of the Willamette river It seems that local jealousies are giving way at this late hour, and that ultimately Oregon may see her just claims regarded by the national assembly. The sum of $15,000 is likely to be appropriated for the removal of obstructions to commerce in the Willamette, between Portland and its mouth

For the information of our readers we append a partial list of appropriations being made by the river and harbor bill, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War The following are the places receiving the benefits of the appropriations for Western interest

For improving the mouth of the Mississippi river, $75,000, for improvement of the Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas and Ohio rivers, $500,000; for the Des Moines rapids, Mississippi river, $200,000; for the Rock Island rapids, Mississippi river, $100,000; for the St Clair flats, Mich., $50,000; for St Mary river, between Lake Superior and Lake Huron, $60,000, for improving Conneaut harbor, $24,000; for harbor at Grand river, Ohio, $21,072, for harbor at Cleveland, Ohio $50,500; for harbor at Black river, Ohio, $10,000, for harbor at Vermillion, Ohio, $15,316 74; for harbor at Huron Ohio, $39,000 for harbor at Sandusky City, Ohio, $38,669, for Harbor at Toledo, Ohio, $30,000; for harbor at Monroe, Mich, $31 016, for harbor at Aux Becscies, Frankfort Mich, $88,641 for harbor of Grand Haven, Mich, $85,000; for harbor of Black Lake, Mich., $35,045 21; for harbor at St. Joseph, Mich $0 000; for improvement of the Saginaw river, $67,800, for harbor at Chicago, $83,704, for harbor at Kenosha, Wis., $95,401, for harbor at Racine, Wis, $23,910, for harbor at Milwaukee, $48 200, for harbor at Sheboygan, Wis., $47,393 91; for harbor at Manitowoc, Wis, $52,000; for improvement of Ashtabula harbor, $24,000; for improvement of the harbor at Green Bay, at the mouth of Fox river, Wis., $20,000, for constructing works and improving the entrance into the harbor of Michigan City, Ind., $75,000

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, June 8th, 1866

Business in trade circles shows a good degree of activity, and aggregating the various markets there is a large business doing Interior dealers are generally renewing their stocks, and the orders from Montana and the mines of British Columbia are constantly being augmented We are gratified at seeing dealers in the city from the towns of Montana, but there is nothing yet like the number we may expect before the close of the season, making their purchases here The sales now being made are mostly to scattered sections of that territory—who generally purchase small lots—but soon we believe the chief dealers will find their way to our markets Prices remain, with very little exception, unchanged from our quotations of last week Stocks are fine of all seasonable goods, and the receipts are about equal to the demand.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, June 8th 1866

The river is very high at the present time which has occasioned a stimulation to shipments from above, throwing upon the market we may say, nearly the entire surplus of produce Incident to these renewed receipts the markets have presented a fair degree of activity, but prices are unsettled Nominal we may say and changes in quotations are not advisable

The stock of good sound flour was never better, but the market is somewhat irregular If there should spring up a demand at San Francisco for our surplus flour, it will have a good effect The following from the Mercantile Gazette of May 23th would seem to indicate a degree of encouragement in this particular

Our advices from China are to the middle of March They are considered favorable to a further continuance of the heavy exports of flour and wheat recently made to that Empire. We have now several vessels on the berth loading breadstuffs for Hongkong, which will have early despatch These supplies are in addition to the large cargo sent forward on the 21th ult, by the Fearless

From Australia we continue to have intelligence that is considered favorable to a continuance of the heavy shipments of flour and grain that have been going forward literally the past few months to the Colonies To this end the British bark Golden Fleece (iron) has been chartered for Melbourne by a prominent grain merchant with a view to a venture—shipping wheat, etc., in bulk, thus saving the large outlay for sacks

Wheat is comparatively steady at our quotations although offerings are very light Oats are nominally unchanged, and the market quiet Lard, bacon, butter and such character of produce rule steady at even rates The prevailing opinion seems to be that no material alteration is likely to take place in prices immediately, but that after harvest rates must work down

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND June 8th 1866

The advance of the season and the peculiar weather, has been the cause of an increased consumption of woolen goods, and a corresponding decrease in the demand for cotton goods The markets of this city are abundantly supplied and trade is good

The European news received in New York at the close of April was construed as the worst for the cotton trade heretofore at hand as well as the most warlike in a political sense It has been a subject of surprise for several months past that the Liverpool cotton market should have been so long and so strongly supported under the increasing supplies from the United States But as the speculation passed successfully through the money pressure in England in February and March, it seemed wholly uncertain to the cotton and banking interests of the East as to when the market would yield to the heavy arrivals from the United States and the East Indies That a decline had to come was the general belief, and the utmost caution had been observed by the drawers as well as the buyers of Exchange on cotton, against the possible contingency of redemption Whatever losses may have accrued from the further decline will fall for the most part on the other side

This market for wool is not very active at the present time but holders are firm in their views Our latest eastern dates show that the demand is mainly from manufacturers, and but few speculators are purchasing We notice sales quoted in New York the 11th of May as follows, which will indicate the condition of the market somewhat

Wool was steady with a fair demand The sales were 100,000 lbs State and Western fleeces at 48c@67½c, the latter for choice Ohio There was a large movement in Texas, comprising 500,000 to 600 000 lbs for export at from 21c to 25c; 1,000 lbs California realized 21@25c

On the 1st, ten days previous, the following were the quotations

We notice sales of 60,000 lbs fleeces at 56c@60c for State, Western and Ohio; 67½ for very fine do; 85,000 lbs pulled at 35@55c, the inside price for Western, 550,000 lbs Texas part at 22@25c, 3,000 lbs California at 21@23½c; 7,000 lbs noils at $1, 15 000 lbs Cape at 42.

The United States Economist of May 5th says.

Manufacturers appear to have no faith in the advance of goods and the shrewdest men do not desire any advance; they manifest a readiness to anticipate a gold standard and they feel that nothing will so surely and safely bring about a resumption of specie payment, aid in bringing up the currency to a specie basis, as to get all kinds of goods down to a gold value. Then they would have no fears of losses or bankruptcy Again, they do not desire a very high price for their goods, provided they can obtain labor and raw material at such a price as to afford them a profit at a low price; for high prices curtail consumption more than anything else

Last week an effort was made to excite the market with the report that Congress would increase the tariff on all wool costing less than 24 cents at the port of exportation to 10 cents ₩ lb and 10 ₩ cent ad valorem, and that the tariff on woolens would be proportionately increased But this failed to induce manufacturers to purchase.

Two years ago, in anticipation of an increase in the tariff, manufacturers rushed into the market and bought largely in the months of March and April as a consequence prices went up; importers sent out orders for foreign wools and large quantities were imported in anticipation of the advance in the tariff We write these things not because we are not the friend of the farmer, but because we are his friend, and we know that his permanent interest is not dependent upon high tariffs but upon the production of just such wool as our manufacturers require, and they will only produce such goods as the wants of the people demand, and we hope that the day is not far distant when every yard of cloth which the people require will be woven in an American loom, and every pound of wool raised upon American soil; and a tariff which would facilitate this we would favor while one which retards or prevents such a consummation we would oppose with all our might. We have every reason to hope that prudent counsels will prevail, for we find few who are at all excited under the circumstances Our reports from England are that wool has advanced since last November from three to four cents on Capes and Australian washed and from two to three cents on unwashed, but wool here has declined, for gold has fallen 20 per cent

The prices of woolen and cotton goods in this market are unchanged. We quote:

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
